ABOUT ME

I'm an experienced Software Developer with a demonstrated history of working in the tech software industry. Skilled in Mobile, Web and Server Application Development.

I am fortunate to develop myself through my career, fulfilling my interests by growing professionally. I love using my technical skills to build cool and interesting things. Contributing value across different ladders of abstraction, all the way from the highest levels of definition down to the lowest levels of implementation details, is where you'll find me at my best.

Fast-paced learner, hard worker, I am looking for an experienced team with ambitious and challenging projects where I can contribute and keep growing as a developer.
